

The Ornithological Journals.—As many of the ornithological journals, especially those published in foreign countries, are seen by but a comparatively small proportion of the readers of 'The Auk,' it seems that a brief résumé of their contents would be a desirable addition to each installment of RECENT LITERATURE. In accordance with this idea, the titles of the more important papers, beginning with January 1, 1912, will be given, followed in some instances by a few words of comment. Purely local articles in foreign journals as well as minor notes, etc., will be omitted while matter relating directly or indirectly to North American ornithology or general bird-study will be given especial attention. In this way readers may learn of papers dealing with subjects of special interest to them of which they would otherwise fail to hear. This plan will not, of course, interfere with the more extended reviews under separate headings of important excerpts received from the authors, which will be continued as heretofore.

Bird Lore. Vol. XIV, No. 1. January–February, 1912.

My experience with Von Berlepsch Nesting-boxes. By F. H. Kennard.

A Glimpse into the Life History of the Turkey Vulture. By R. W. Williams.

Notes on the Ornithology of Corsica, Part III. By Rev. Francis C. R. Jourdain.

On the Birds of Mauritius. By Capt. R. Meinertzhagen.—Fifteen of the native species are now protected by law.

On some newly described Birds of Paradise, and some Undescribed Eggs of the same Group. By Hon. Walter Rothschild.—Pardigalla brevicauda Rothschild & Hartert figured.

On the Eggs of certain Birds-of-Paradise. By W. R. Ogilvie-Grant.—

Refers to the wonderful aviaries of Mr. E. J. Brook at Hoddam Castle where there were living at one time twenty-three species of Paradise and Bower Birds and where two have nested.

Descriptions of two new Species and a new Genus of Australian Birds. By Alfred J. North — Neositta mortoni, Alcyone ramsayi and Trichodere nov. gen. for Ptilotis cockerelli Gould.

Field-Notes on a Collection of Birds from the Mediterranean. By Commander H. Lynes. With Systematic Notes by H. F. Witherby.— The nomenclature of this paper seems strangely out of place on the conservative pages of 'The Ibis.' Trinomials are used throughout but while the editors allow such names as Emberiza calandra calandra and Chloris chloris aurantiiventris, they take pains to explain in foot-notes that they are unable to permit such a name as Petronia petronia petronia and have stricken out one of the repetitions!

Under 'Letters and Notes.' Mr. Mathews makes another appeal to the B. O. U. for the rejection of Brissonian Genera and for the transference of Saxicola from the Wheatear to the Chats (Pratincola). In the latter case he seems to entirely overlook the fact that the International Code does not recognize type fixing by restriction except where a genus consists of but two species (opinion 6). The first actual designation of a type for Saxicola is by Gray, 1841, who designated S. ananthe.

Bulletin of the British Ornithologists' Club. No. CLXXV.

Hon. Walter Rothschild describes a new Cassowary, Casuarius keysseri and discusses the relationships of the thirty species and subspecies now known, of which by the way he has described exactly one half. There was a general exhibition and discussion of Capercaillie, Black Grouse and Pheasants in which males were assuming female plumage and vice versa. Mr. Witherby regarded the abnormal feathers as not exactly like those of the opposite sex and suggested that the cause was probably not related to the sexual organs. Mr. Pycraft thought that "the assumption of female plumage by males was due to a lack of 'tone' or vitality at the time of moulting."

Journal für Ornithologie. LX. Heft. 1, January, 1912. Studies on the Avifauna of Emsland. Dr. Edwin Detmers.

The Distribution of the Genus Emberiza. Dr. H. Duncker. With maps showing lines of dispersal of the various groups of species.

The Zoologist. No. 847. January 15, 1912.

The Prehistoric Origin of the Common Fowl. By Fredk. J. Stubbs and A. J. Rowe.

The Emu. January, 1912. Vol. XI, Part 3.

Eleventh Session of the Royal Australasian Ornithologists' Union.

Bush Birds of New Zealand. By J. C. McLean. Part III.

Relative Dimensions of Red Blood Cells of Vertebrates, especially of Birds. By J. Burton Cleland and F. Harvey Johnston.

Avifauna of New South Wales Islands. By A. F. Basset Hull. Part II.

Bird-Life in the Riverina. By Capt. A. S. White.

British Birds. January 1, 1912. Vol. V, No. 8.

Dr. L. Bureau's work on the Partridge. By N. F. T.—A review in English of this recent volume which comprises probably the most detailed study of molt in live birds that has yet appeared.

The North American Peregrine in Lincolnshire and Leicestershire. By G. H. Eaton Haigh.

British Birds. February 1, 1912. Vol. V, No. 9.

Breeding and "Eclipse" Plumages of the Common Partridge. By W. R. Ogilvie-Grant.—A phase not hitherto recorded, perhaps analogous to one of the plumages of the Ptarmigan.
